Greek Cabinet Resigns Following Its Defeat In Election; Britain And France Oppose Constantine's Return To Throne

DANGER OF LEAGUE ASSEMBLY ENCROACHING ON MONROE DOCTRINE HAS BEEN AVERTED

GENEVA, Nov. 16.—All danger that the assembly of the league of nations may encroach upon the Monroe doctrine by considering American questions in the absence of the United States, has been averted by the withdrawal of a request by Bolivia and Peru for revision of treaties with Chile. Their requests were withdrawn yesterday, it having been Bolivia's purpose to call attention to the sea, and Peru's to secure reconsideration of the vexing Tarma-Arica question.

It is not expected that any other American questions with dangerous possibilities will come before the present session of the assembly.

Six committees, charged with dealing with all questions on the agenda, began work today. Each committee has 41 members, all the nations having delegates at the meeting here being represented.

It is reported that South American delegates approved the league of nations should do all it can to get the United States to become a member nation.

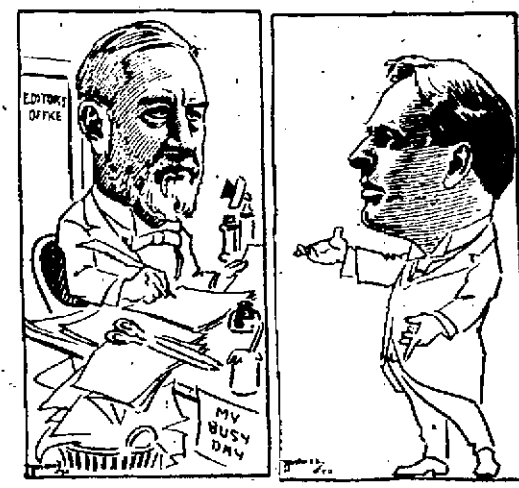

Angling is regarded as a strong candidate for representation on the agenda of the league, the four elective members of which will be chosen by the assembly after receiving the report of the committee on general organization.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—Consideration of the Tarma-Arica dispute between Chile, Peru and Bolivia by the League of Nations would not be regarded by the American government as an encroachment on the league on the Monroe doctrine, according to state department officials.

It has been pointed out at the state department that settlement by such a means would be without precedent in the history of the league and the king of Spain have acted as arbiters in South American boundary questions in the past.

The administration's attitude with respect to the Monroe doctrine has been based upon the literal interpretation, providing against any territorial aggression in South America.

Many Concerns Face Difficulty In Paying Income Tax Due To Stringency Of Money Market

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1920 By Times Pub. Co.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Should corporations and manufacturing concerns, which haven't the money to pay their last installment of income taxes on Dec. 15, be allowed to postpone payment until they have more cash on hand or should Uncle Sam insist that the business houses which haven't saved up enough money to pay their taxes suffer the consequences of their mislaid? This question is being put up to the treasury department because of the stringency of the money market. Unless the government helps out by postponing the December payment on income taxes there will be bankruptcy proceedings in many large business establishments.

But the treasury department has no discretion in the matter and officials there say congress alone can authorize the postponement of any payment on income taxes. Inasmuch as congress meets on Monday, December 6, a new law would have to be passed immediately because the present law requires payment on December 15 and provides penalties for failure to pay. It is doubtful whether any satisfactory measure could be passed before a week it opens up the whole subject of taxation. The most that might be accomplished is a simple amendment to letting revenue laws granting the treasury department temporary discretion to act in cases wherein the facts prove a postponement is absolutely essential to prevent ruin.

Officials who administer the income tax laws, however, are afraid of such a provision. They say it will require a huge staff and lots of money to determine what is a meritorious case. The income tax bureau has a hard time handling the present provisions of the law without new loaning, yet officials recognize the emergency and realize how serious the consequences may be to the public if many concerns are forced into bankruptcy. Income tax executives say they are losing men as fast as they employ them. Government salaries are not comparable to the attractive offers by the business world. Yet the Republicans being elected to congress and the cutting down of governmental expenditures are not in the mood to increase the government payroll.

Had To Borrow From Themselves
As a matter of fact it isn't the fault of the government that business houses have failed to accumulate a reserve wherewith to pay income taxes. Many corporations did make provision for their December liability the money market became so tight that they couldn't borrow funds to carry on the normal turnover of their work. So they borrowed from themselves—they used (Continued on Page Eight)

Two Parallel Probes Of Alleged Building Trust

NEW YORK, November 16.—New York today became the scene of two parallel investigations of the alleged building trusts here. A joint legislative committee with Samuel Untermyer as chief counsel, which has been conducting an inquiry for the past two weeks, hereafter will confine its labors to efforts to expose graft in the city's public building enterprises, while the city administration will devote its efforts to illegal acts in connection with contracts for public buildings, such as school houses, court houses and other structures.

John D. O'Brien, corporation counsel, has been directed by Mayor Hylan to make a thorough investigation of all contracts let by the city, with particular attention to the city's court houses and school building contracts. Mr. O'Brien was given authority to demand information from all department heads which may aid him in his investigation.

The attorney said the investigation by the legislative committee which will be resumed on Thursday "has merely scratched the surface of a few small, comparatively unimportant, in the building industry, and that the large concerns should be attacked with the aid of central authorities."

Britain Discusses Resumption Of Trade With Soviet Russia

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Representatives of the Russian trade delegation in London, headed by Leonid Krassin, were in conference yesterday with the cabinet, discussing the preliminaries for the possible resumption of trade with Soviet Russia.

Some progress was made, but it is stated that there is a sharp division of opinion in the British cabinet on the subject. Premier Lloyd George is reported to favor resumption, but several of the prominent cabinet members are opposing it. Mr. Lloyd George is said to be supported, among others, by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house of commons, and Sir Robert S. Home, president of the board of trade, who heretofore had opposed the recognition policy.

The difficulty of the situation is made greater by the attitude of France where general public opinion is reflected as against any resumption of trade. It is stated that Great Britain will not resume trade with the Soviets without the consent of the French cabinet which has been informed of yesterday's proceedings and requested to comment upon them.

Let Science Help When Washday Comes

There are a thousand ways in which time and labor may be saved in the arrangement and equipment of the home laundry room.

Any housewife may apply tests to soaps which will tell whether they are too strong or too mild and warn her of the effects they may be expected to have on cottons, silks or woollens.

In ironing clothes they are certain facts and understanding of which may save pinpricks from scorchers, luffles from fading, woollens from shrinking.

There is starch loss and lining loss. All of these are to be found in a FREE information bulletin distributed FREE through our Washington Information Bureau. It is another of our helps to housewives.

Big Powers Are Satisfied With Fiume Settlement

LONDON, November 16.—Great Britain, France and the United States, have through their ambassadors, expressed satisfaction with the settlement of the Adriatic question reached at Rapallo, Italy, last week, Premier Giolitti, of Italy, announced at a cabinet meeting yesterday, says a dispatch from the Stefani news agency, a semi-official organization.

The Italian premier's statement was made during his reply to congratulations to himself, foreign Minister Storza and Minister of War Bonomi from their colleagues. The three officials conducted the negotiations with the Jugoslav delegation at Rapallo.

Signor Giolitti is quoted as declaring the situation in the Adriatic zone around Fiume gave no cause for anxiety. He said that although he did not understand what was meant by a strategic frontier for such a small state as Fiume, his liberty and independence were safeguarded, as under the treaty any violation by the Jugoslavians would be tantamount to a declaration of war on Italy.

The cabinet approved a bill ratifying the treaty and annexing the new territory which goes to Italy by virtue of the provisions of the law.

Western Union And State Department In Open Break

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—The long standing controversy between the state department and the Western Union Telegraph Company, has reached the stage of an open break, the company refusing to handle any further cable messages for the department, except upon prepayment of tolls.

The company's order was issued on November 10, it was said today at the department and ostensibly was to apply to all departments of the government. It was understood, however, that messages sent by other departments had been excepted informally from the ruling.

The Western Union Company is stated to have based its action on the delay by the department in making payments on cable messages previously handled. Department officials asserted today, however, that it was in their opinion a step in retaliation for the failure of the department to permit the landing of a cable at Miami, Fla., connecting at Panhandle with a British cable from South America.

Allies View Defeat Of Venizelos As Ingratitude For Premier's Good Work

ATHENS, Nov. 16.—Premier Venizelos resigned early today, and Admiral Kondouriotis, the rest of Greece, has sent for George Kallis to whom, it is expected will be entrusted the formation of a new ministry.

The complete victory of the opposition seemed almost certain last night, although final results were still lacking. Even leaders of the elements opposed to Premier Venizelos, held on Sunday were surprised by the showing their candidates had made in Macedonia and Attica.

It is said M. Venizelos will leave the country, and he has advised liberals to abide by the verdict of the people.

Demetrios Gounaris, leader of the opposition, has declared the foreign policy of Greece will not be changed. Latest returns from the election gave the supporters of M. Venizelos 118 deputies against 250 royalists. M. Venizelos and all but two of his ministers were beaten. None of the Venizelos candidates were elected in Greece and Macedonia, with the exception of Epirus and the Aegean Islands.

Two persons were killed by shots fired from houses facing the foreign office yesterday. It was declared that reactionary elements were responsible for the firing. Armed police rushed to the scene and a lively fusillade resulted. Further trouble was feared had night.

M. Kallis is eighty years old, his last public office being that of minister of finance in the Zaimis cabinet in 1916. Previous to that time he took a prominent part in Greek politics.

It was declared today at the foreign office that France would take all possible steps to keep the former king off the throne.

The question of return of former Crown Prince George had not yet been raised, it was added.

"The defeat of Premier Venizelos," a foreign office statement said, "may be termed a display of gross ingratitude by the Greeks for the man who brought the country to the allies' side and greatly increased its size, power and influence, and this view is shared by the allies."

Paris, Nov. 16.—Reports that Premier Venizelos of Greece met defeat in the elections held on Sunday came as an unpleasant surprise to Paris. Newspapers here agree that England and probably France, will forbid the return of former King Constantine to Greece.

Hope is expressed by "Perrinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris, that even a compromise playing Prince George, the eldest son of Constantine, on the throne, will not be sanctioned by the entente. Most writers fear the result of the election, if it brings about the fall of Venizelos, will still further complicate the already difficult situation in the near east.

With the defeat of Premier Venizelos, the French foreign office is certain, it is said the position of France and Great Britain with regard to former King Constantine is very clearly against his return and that both powers are determined to do everything possible to prevent it.

Great Britain and France, it is indicated, will act together, but will await some indication of Constantine's intention to return. Should that be manifested, they will then do whatever may be necessary.

Rhalls Asked To Form Cabinet

LONDON, Nov. 16.—George Rhallis, former Greek premier and minister of finance, has been asked by the regent to form a cabinet succeeding that of M. Venizelos, which resigned this morning, says a Reuters dispatch from Paris.

The house at Athens has been closed because of the fear of a panic, it is said.

Hoover Discusses Questions Of Industrial Peace With The Leaders Of Organized Labor

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 16.—Questions of industrial peace and related problems were discussed today at a conference between leaders of organized labor and Herbert Hoover, former federal food administrator and member of President Wilson's second industrial conference.

Mr. Hoover, who came to the conference of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at the request of President Coolidge, said he had made the transcontinental trip from San Francisco to discuss the whole industrial and employment situation.

Mr. Hoover said he had no definite program to offer, but that he expected to "advise and discuss" with the labor officials on general conditions.

Differences appeared among members of the council as to the real purpose of Mr. Hoover's appearance. Prior to his arrival, William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, declared that the council would not go to any person to discuss the subject of industrial peace. He said that Mr. Hoover had come for a discussion of technical engineering questions, the nature of which he did not disclose.

When Mr. Hoover entered the council room he had with him a sheet of data to which he expected to refer in the discussion. This data was understood to include the results of scientific investigation and research on questions of production.

While federation of labor officials were reticent about the subjects to come before the council today, it was indicated that Mr. Hoover would be asked to discuss means of relieving waste in production.

Repeal of existing laws and opposition to proposed laws requiring compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes. Opposition to laws restricting the right of workers to quit work.

Enactment of legislation placing drastic restrictions upon immigration from all parts of the world with the most rigid control of that from Central and Southeastern Europe.

An intensive campaign of Americanization to counteract the influence of political theories not in harmony with the principles underlying the government of the United States.

FARM BUREAU HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Over 150 members of the United County Farm Bureau met at the United Brethren church Tuesday morning, when the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau convened. The large attendance of the farmers with such weather, showed their faith in the organization and the interest they have in such meetings at which time good talks are always made that contain many helpful suggestions.

The morning session that was to be held at the court house was held at the church on account of court being in session. The morning session started at ten o'clock and the meeting was given over to the speaker of the morning, the business session being dispensed with.

F. G. Keizer, Director of Marketing of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, spoke on "Co-operative Marketing, Particular of Livestock." In his remarks the speaker told of the farmer's organization in Canada and in the west, mentioning Kansas and Nebraska, especially. He has studied the co-operative marketing in those locations and knows from experience that co-operative marketing, especially of livestock, is best from the farmer's and stock raiser's standpoint. He said "Co-operative marketing is more efficient therefore more economical." He explained his point plainly by speaking of the buyer who pure about buying on the average plan, the man having good stock not getting what is worth while the man who has poor stock gets more than he is entitled to.

In speaking of the advantages of co-operative marketing of livestock, Mr. Keizer laid stress upon the following five points first: Farmer retains control of product; reduction of livestock problem; reduction of stock by farmer; in order to direct movement and properly distribute stock upon the market; second, reduces grade of livestock; present marketing plan penalizes producer of quality stock and gives a premium to producer of scrubs. Co-operative marketing justly rewards producers of top; third, efficient method of handling, duplicating, cumbersome, non-systematic efforts, replaced with straightened, non-duplication, efficient system; fourth, losses reduced—less and consequent loss from filling reduced. Prestige enables collection of claims now frequently lost to producer. Fifth, eliminate unfair practices—filling stock before weighing and favoring frequently shown by buyers is eliminated.

At noon, a free lunch was served at the United Brethren church. The afternoon session, as largely attended as the morning meeting, was also held at the church, starting at one o'clock. The speaker of the afternoon was Charles H. Scott, a farmer of Hill-Idro, who spoke on "The Farm Bureau of Today."

The election of new directors was to be announced at the close of the afternoon session, each township being allotted to one director.

WILL REPEAT INSPIRING RED CROSS PAGEANT THIS EVENING

There are those, who know the meaning of the "Red Cross," but many who do not understand its significance. The Red Cross of Peace Pageant at the High School last evening, showed in pantomime, the activities of this one of the greatest of international organizations; its methods at all times to give assistance to those in need, whether from pestilence, disaster, famine, fire, flood, or other great national calamities, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing them.

The need of the Red Cross in times of peace, as well as in times of war was shown throughout the play by the "Red Cross of Peace," this character being created by the author of the pageant, Mrs. Ruth Mourey Worrell, of Cleveland.

Two audiences, that crowded to the doors of the High School Auditorium, witnessed one of the most spectacular performances ever attempted by local amateurs. A symphony of color, carried out in the costumes, the production was accompanied by rousing orchestral music and a large chorus.

The first performance at 7 o'clock, was entirely for children, and the house was filled with youngsters. The second performance at 8:30 for the "grown-ups," who showed as much enthusiasm as the preceding audience. The pageant will be repeated tonight, one performance only, at 8 o'clock.

The call to colors by two buglers, opened the pageant, then with Watson Goodard singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and the large chorus singing the refrain, "Miss Helen Hardin, impersonating the 'Spirit of Humanity,'" appeared with Miss Marie Ware as Florence Nightingale, Miss Charlotte Dufay as Clara Barton, Miss Virginia Alger and Mildred Schloss, as two nurses of the Civil War times, accompanying two wounded soldiers of the Civil War, thus showing the Red Cross in war at the founding of the organization. Miss Leora Ward enacting the "Red Cross in Africa" entered, preceding the characters representing the Junior Red Cross, Knitting Department, Educational Department, Canteen Service, Sewing Department, Nursing Service, Overseas Personnel, Motor Corps, Home Service Department, Surgical Dressings, and lastly, the Red Cross Dog.

In Acton 2, Columbia, Mrs. Walter Gableman, presented the commission to the Red Cross of Peace to carry on her work. In turn, the Red Cross of Peace outlined the peace program to the "Returned Soldier," Captain W. J. Keyes.

In the second part, the peace program was carried out, showing the home nursing service with the public health nurse, immigrant mother and child, blind child, crippled child, disabled soldier and group of poverty-stricken women. At this time Rose Selby as the Red Cross Representative presented the women of the nursing service with certificates for their first aid work.

Mrs. Leora McCoy and Miss Virginia Ware were the interviewers for the Home Service, giving aid to the returned soldier, wife and child, dependent father and mother, blind soldier, compensable client and federal board student.

Action three showed the Health Center Service first, with a group of youngsters giving a toothbrush drill. The disaster service was one of the most successful of the tableaux, the terror-stricken tornado victims being deftly attended by the Red Cross physicians and nurses and litter bearers.

In the scene, "America of Tomorrow," the little homeless children were taken care of and made happy by the care and attention given. The children of the parochial schools represented happy childhood the world over. They danced through the audience casting rose-petals over all, and danced in graceful formation to the stage. The response was given to this great work in the final scene, when Mrs. Charles Waldron as Community, pledged herself with other communities to answer the roll-call to the "Greatest Mother of All," so that the mission of the Red Cross may be carried on.

The ensemble, "America The Beautiful" was sung by the audience.

TWO MORE PERSONS DROP DEAD; MAKING FIVE IN AS MANY DAYS

Within the past five days five Scioto citizens have dropped dead, breaking all previous records for deaths of this character, according to Coroner J. D. Hendrickson.

William Lon Wirtman and Allen Griffin, of New Boston, dropped dead last Friday.

William Henderson, of this city, Herman Herms, of Wheelersburg, and Mrs. Julia N. Messer, of Turkey Creek, dropped dead Monday.

Herman Herms

Herman Herms, one of the best known residents of Portsmouth and Wheelersburg, fell dead in the yard of his son, Carl Herms' home at Wheelersburg, at 3:20 o'clock Monday afternoon. In Mr. Herms who lives at Wheelersburg, had been at his son's home for the afternoon. After talking with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carl Herms, he walked out into the yard. The daughter-in-law found him dead in the yard a few minutes later. A physician was called immediately called Dr. Hopkins, who found the man was beyond human aid. Herms was born in Germany, had been in good health. He would have been in good health up to the time of his death, and of age had he lived until January, 1921, had been fairly ill.

Years ago he came to this country and shortly afterwards settled at Portsmouth, 1885, and in addition to her husband, she taught German in the public school here for a number of years.

For the past year, the deceased and her husband had been living in a cottage on Turkey Creek, previous to 1919 and three years ago moved from there. They lived a few months in Michigan, Portsmouth to Wheelersburg where he died. He had been a member of the Scioto lodge and a member of the German-American society in Kentucky.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sophia Herms, two sons, Carl Herms, formerly a merchant of Wheelersburg, and William Herms, presently in the University of California. He also leaves four grand children.

At 1 p. m. but the arrangements have been completed.

The deceased was widely known in this county and his friends will learn of his passing away with deepest regret.

Mrs. Julia N. Messer

Scioto county lost another of its oldest citizens with the death of Mrs. Julia N. Messer, aged 74, Monday night at 6:30 from a sudden attack of heart trouble at her home in Turkey Creek.

Mrs. Messer arose as usual Monday morning but shortly after rising complained of her heart, pointing her and the family physician, Dr. D. N. Hopkins, of Friendship, was summoned. In the late afternoon several friends called and talked with Henry Messer, husband of the deceased, while Mrs. Messer lay on a couch in an adjoining room. When Mrs. Messer went to see her husband he found her dead and he immediately called Dr. Hopkins, who found the man was beyond human aid.

At Monday night's meeting of New Boston Council.

At Monday night's meeting of New Boston Council, the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light Company presented an ordinance making for an increase in the rate of fare, from the present rate for New Boston, being 6 cents, with provision of transfer from West, avenue to Sciotoville and from Sciotoville to West avenue, New Boston.

After hearing the reading of the ordinance Council decided to pass the matter until Thursday night, to which time Council will meet as a whole to consider the various phases of the ordinance. The next Tuesday night an extraordinary meeting will be held, at which time the railway officials will be present to explain the ordinance and the merits of the proposed fare increase.

Mayor J. S. Davis advised the several business concerns to have Portsmouth Council in its meeting Wednesday night. Not to pass on the ordinance, adding that it would be best for the city to have the ordinance considered before the council is taken to the next meeting. Assuming that Mayor Davis is correct, that the Council will pass on the ordinance, the business concerns will be able to get together and decide on a plan of action.

As to New Boston's part of the ordinance, Mayor Davis says that the ordinance specifies that the money is needed for improvements, but that the corporation should make some guarantee that improvements would be made before the increase is granted.

Another clause which Mayor Davis says is not favorable to New Boston is the Sciotoville transfer. He says that the transfer fee cost from the West corporation line of the village instead of only to West avenue. This would allow the Sciotoville workers at the N. & W. terminals to get to and from work on payment of only one fare each way, instead of two fares each way.

The ordinance will be presented to Portsmouth Council Wednesday night, Messrs. Raymond York, Hugh H. Higgins and Attorney Harry Miller represented the Railway Company at New Boston Monday evening.

NEWSPAPER TELLS HOW BOY WAS SAVED FROM LUNG TROUBLE

Read what the Altoona Times-Tribune says about the case of Paul McCartney. Reporter interviewed his parents and saw the boy.

The story shown below is a news article, not advertising.

Altoona (Pa.) Times-Tribune, Monday, 26, 1920

HEALTH COMES TO LAD THROUGH ADVERTISING

Despairing Parents, As the Last Resort, Choose Remedy Held by This Newspaper—Boy Is Now Well and Robust

It would hardly occur to you that a miracle could be worked through advertising—that that saved to doing parents the life of their only son? However, as it may seem, that is just exactly what has been accomplished in a specific instance right here in Altoona. We all have heard volumes about the value of advertising, but that the great miracle achieved by it, should save the almost passing son of a mother, is almost beyond belief. However here are the facts in the case.

Paul McCartney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion McCartney, residing at 1212 Walnut avenue, this city, and who on October 15 last, celebrated the 14th anniversary of his birthday, took sick July, 1919, his illness rapidly assuming such a critical aspect that his life was in danger. The parents in their frantic efforts to save his life, called in different medical practitioners and at different times had him admitted to both city hospitals.

DIAGNOSED TUBERCULOSIS. The malady was diagnosed by the physicians as tuberculosis and it was suggested that the parents keep the boy out of doors, day and night and feed him entirely on a milk and egg diet. In compliance, the parents had an army cot placed on the back porch, and it properly named and there, the sufferer resided to a more, children's day and night, his life ebbing.

Then in contrast, the mother called to her son who was engaged in street work on the street, and in came a lad, vibrant with health and cheeks glowing like the rose. All this in spite of the diagnosis by a physician "that he might as well take no more life," according to the mother's statement.

Mrs. McCartney sent her letter to the company in the hope that other mothers would learn of the remedy, what it did for her son, and perhaps receive from it the same invaluable boon. She called the attention of the company to a bottle of the medicine which she had the place of honor on the buffet, and to which she says, recourse is had every time any member of the family complains of weakness, and Paul is attending school regularly, being enrolled at the Central building, Mr. McCartney is a well known machinist in the Junction shop.

Mrs. McCartney sent her letter to the company in the hope that other mothers would learn of the remedy, what it did for her son, and perhaps receive from it the same invaluable boon. She called the attention of the company to a bottle of the medicine which she had the place of honor on the buffet, and to which she says, recourse is had every time any member of the family complains of weakness, and Paul is attending school regularly, being enrolled at the Central building, Mr. McCartney is a well known machinist in the Junction shop.

Then in contrast, the mother called to her son who was engaged in street work on the street, and in came a lad, vibrant with health and cheeks glowing like the rose. All this in spite of the diagnosis by a physician "that he might as well take no more life," according to the mother's statement.

"YOU LOOK SO HEALTHY NOW," HER FRIENDS SAY

Mrs. Claus Always Replies That The Improvement in Her Health Is Due To Taking Vola-Tonic.

When friends meet Mrs. Anna Claus they usually exclaim: "You look so different—so healthy. What have you been doing to yourself?"

Mrs. Claus, who lives at 1933 Ohio Avenue, Cincinnati, O., always replies that the improvement in her health is due to taking Vola-Tonic. "Builder of Strength." Recently Mrs. Claus made the following statement about her experience with Vola-Tonic:

"I used to get up in the morning feeling like I was about 30 years older than I really am. It seemed that I couldn't get any rest at night at all and got up feeling tired all over."

"During the day the noise of the children at their play would make me nervous. I'd feel so tired out that I couldn't begin to do all the cleaning in my house in one day, although it is not a large house at all. I'd work a little while and then I'd have to sit down and rest. Often I had dizzy spells and I never left the house without one of the children or somebody else with me, because I was afraid I might become dizzy. I became aggravated at the least little thing that happened and just fell all out of sorts."

"I surely was discouraged about my health but I read so much about Vola-Tonic that I got a bottle and started taking it. That first bottle brought results, but I kept on taking Vola-Tonic until I had taken four bottles. In all, there surely is a big difference in me now. I don't know what it is, but I don't feel tired out, aggravated or dizzy. I look a lot better also because all my friends remark about it and want to know what on earth has caused the change in me. I always tell them the change is due to Vola-Tonic and advise them to take it if they feel like I used to."

"Vola-Tonic is a system medicine without a peer. Its strengthening, health-building properties affect the entire body and system. Get a bottle of Vola-Tonic TODAY and get back strength and health."

"VOLA-TONIC, 'Builder of Strength,' is sold in Portsmouth by Fisher & Streich and all other good druggists."

NOTE: All Vola-Tonic testimonials are absolutely the whole truth. The original signed testimonials are on file at the office of the Vola-Tonic Co., Cincinnati, O., and are open for inspection of the public at any time.—Adv.

CAMP SHERMAN MAY GET LANDING FIELD

CHILLICOTHE, Nov. 16.—According to advice received at Camp Sherman from Corps Headquarters at Fort Benning, Harrison, planes may be bringing their way between the two fields before many more months pass.

Under the present plans of officials at Fort Benning, Harrison, it is contemplated connecting all troop centers, such as Camp Sherman, with Corps Headquarters by means of airplane. There is a hundred-acre landing field at the Indiana post and it may be, before long, that officers from Camp Sherman who have official business to transact in person at Fort Benning, Harrison, will merely call for the camp plane and taxi away in the clouds reaching their destination within an hour or so.

According to the letter received here, hangars and equipment are being assembled at Benning, Harrison to take care of a sufficient number of machines to establish adequate communication between the various posts.

In order to make proper connections at Camp Sherman, local officials have been requested to go over the ground here again and pick out a suitable landing field, of not less than forty acres in size, and greater if possible.

No person was found at the still and no one was seen nearer than the house of the farmer. The land on which the still was found is an outlying tract belonging to a leading citizen of the township. Sheriff Davis brought some of the moonshine to town, and it was seen by many people. Simply tubalizing the still will knock a cold. Some kick. No arrests have been made up to this time. Dr. Hays and Mr. White were invited guests on the raid.

Teeth Shine

When the film goes—watch and see

Learn now how teeth look—how they feel—when you combat the film.

Get from your druggist, without cost, this ten-day test. Note the instant results, then look in ten days.

Millions have already done this. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. Now show your home folks what clean teeth really mean.

The war on film

Dental science, the world over, is fighting a war on film. Film is that vicious coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Those troubles have been constantly increasing. The ordinary tooth paste does not end film, so the tooth brush has proved inadequate. Millions know how well-brushed teeth have discolored and decayed.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And, despite all brushing, few escape these troubles caused by film.

New ways to fight it

Now dental science has found ways to fight film, day by day. Able authorities have proved the methods efficient. Leading dentists everywhere now urge their application.

The methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. To millions it has brought a new era in teeth cleaning. And to every home a ten-day test is offered free, so all may quickly know it.

Quick, visible results

Anyone can see and feel what Pepsodent is doing. No old method of brushing ever brought such effects. So we let this test convince you.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied also, and at once. That is to neutralize mouth acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

The effects of Pepsodent come with every application. We constantly combat, in efficient ways, the teeth's great enemies. And millions of teeth are given new protection and new beauty.

FREE

This Week Only

At any drug store named below, a 10-day tube of Pepsodent. Simply present the coupon.

Watch the teeth whiten—note how clean they feel. Then think what such protection means to you and yours.

Get the free tube today.

Millions now show the effects

In every circle nowadays you see glistening teeth. Ask the owners. You will find, we think, that they are using Pepsodent.

Go get this free tube and try it for yourself. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then let the children use it. Their teeth need it most. Very few children reach the age of 15 without some tooth decay.

Let the man who smokes see how it takes the stained film from his teeth.

Let all find out how much cleaner teeth feel, how much safer, when brushed in this new way. Then this ten-day test may bring to your home some lifetime effects.

Find Still; Where Is Owner?

JACKSON, Nov. 16.—Sheriff William H. Davis, accompanied by his deputy, Howard H. Cherrington, Dr. W. H. Hays and Mr. White, pastor of the United Brethren church, made a raid in Hamilton township yesterday afternoon, and seized a still, one hundred and six gallons of mash and six gallons of moonshine whiskey. The still was found in some underbrush not far away from the residence of a well-known farmer, whom the sheriff took with him to the scene of operations.

The arrangements were complete. There is a three foot dam to secure water, and a sufficient number of barrels for the operation. A big tank was a feature and in the top of this was a three gallon bucket with a wooden fitting tightly. Through the top a pipe passed to a beer keg, and from the beer keg through a coil in a barrel filled with cold water and thence the cold drained into a tub.

No person was found at the still and no one was seen nearer than the house of the farmer. The land on which the still was found is an outlying tract belonging to a leading citizen of the township. Sheriff Davis brought some of the moonshine to town, and it was seen by many people. Simply tubalizing the still will knock a cold. Some kick. No arrests have been made up to this time. ## COURT OF APPEALS IN SESSION HERE

The November term of the Seloto play morning with Judges William H. County Court of Appeals convened at Middletown of Watery and Edwin D. the Court House at nine o'clock Tuesday of Athens on the bench. Judge

Festus Walters, the other member of the court, who has been in poor health for several months at his Cincinnati home, is not with the court, being unable to come here on account of his physical condition. The Cincinnati jurist retired in February, after 18 years of splendid service on the appellate court bench in this district and he will be succeeded by Judge-elect Joseph J. Manek of Gallipolis.

The court has a light docket here this term, there being but seven cases on the calendar and it is quite probable some of these will not be heard.

Some good, some poor, some very poor work marked the contest between the Survivors and Auroras at the Play House alleys, last evening, the result of which gave the Survivors two out of three. The work of two of the victors, namely John Underwood and Captain George Wilhelm, stood out in bold relief. The former shot for a total of 358, and now has the distinction of leading all bowlers in the league for total pins, topping Earl Reinhardt's score of 350. Mr. Underwood, who seems to think he is back to normal, shot a couple of 200 scores, the first time in his life to do such an unheard of thing. Captain Wilhelm was right near him all the time, starting out with 215. Dallas Lemon of the Auroras was very good last evening, gathering a total of 527. But after discarding of these three worthies, the mantle of charity must be tossed over the shoulders of all others, and charity begins right here—no further allusions or illusions. The scores:

Red Cross Roll Call Gets A Good Start

Active work on the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call for memberships in the factories of the city and suburbs and the drive bids fair to exceed all expectations.

A table has been set up in the post-office and scores of memberships were secured by this means Monday. Although no definite reports have been received from the factories, the outlook is encouraging.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THOMPSON, 824 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do any housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—MRS. LESTER E. WALKER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

Village Store Sausage

CERTAINLY MADE A HIT

Actually it sold so rapidly that at times folks wouldn't wait for us to season and mix it. They took it just as it came from the grinder, and the butcher has had to work overtime every night this week. But it's no wonder. It's the finest sausage you ever tasted. The sweetest tenderloin, the juiciest ham goes into it. It isn't "scrap" sausage in any sense of that word and it's pure pork—no beef. Price per pound only 33c.

Watch for our full page ad soon. It will be a revelation of values. But don't miss that sausage.

ON WITH THE DANCE!

Says Miss Mary Marcus, Since Feeling 20 Years Younger

"Only recently have I again been able to attend dances and enjoy myself as when a young girl," says Miss Mary Marcus, 217 S. Preston St., Louisville, Ky.

"Working hard all day, being continually on my feet, a year ago I went into a complete decline in health. I suffered miserably with aches and pains in my back and limbs. My stomach bothered me and I lost all my appetite. I was so fatigued and nervous I couldn't bear to have anyone touch my finger or my head and I was next to impossible. I lost sleep and tossed all night long, arising of mornings all tired out. I spent small fortunes with doctors and took every medicine I could lay my hands on, but got no better. Finally I resorted to an extract of pure herbs called Herb Sap, and took four bottles of it. It did the work and now I am glad to say I'm a happy woman once more and enjoy my life with all the vim and spirit I had twenty years ago. I'll always recommend Herb Sap to all my friends."

Herb Sap is now for sale here at Hall & Struthers or any other good drug store in this vicinity. Should your favorite druggist not dispense it, it is suggested that you have him get it for you from his wholesaler. If you are in a rundown condition and need building up, by all means get Herb Sap at once. —AGV.

Plan To Salvage Stranded Ship

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Nov. 16.—Capt. Arthur Forbes of the wrecked steamer Francis J. Willard, and representatives of the Becker line, owners of the vessel, were planning today to undertake the salvage of the freighter which was driven upon Pancake Shoals in Lake Superior Friday night and laid up to noon yesterday, withstood the pounding of the heavy seas.

According to Captain Forbes, with the 27 members of his crew who arrived here last night aboard rescue tugs, the steamer was not believed so badly damaged below the water line that she could not be saved.

The members of the crew, recovered from their sixty hours exposure on the stranded vessel, were preparing to leave for their homes. Nothing had been heard early today of the whereabouts of the steamer. Charles N. Brainerd, another vessel overtaken by the severe storm last week. All other steamers on Lake Superior at the time have been accounted for.

YOUR COMPLEXION CAN BE MADE WHITE, SOFT AND YOUTHFUL

By the Use of the BLACK and
White Beauty Treatment

Every woman wishes to appear beautiful. The savage maiden tattoos her skin, fixes rings in her nose and uses other crude ornaments to make herself more attractive. An example of present-day beauty among civilized women is soft, velvet skin and a radiant complexion.

To improve your complexion, you could use anything that hides your faded, pimply, blotchy skin. Such applications last only a few hours, and at best, they make the delicate skin become many cases.

You can make your complexion beautiful by using the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment which removes all the blemishes from your skin. This beauty treatment will not injure the skin and is easy to apply. Before you apply the treatment, wash your face with BLACK and WHITE Soap, then mix and apply BLACK and WHITE Cream.

The BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment will also remove pimples, sun freckles, insect bites, skin blotches, itchy skin, and all other skin blemishes from the skin. Remember that the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment is different from all other skin blemish treatments — does not cover or hide — hides.

You can buy BLACK and WHITE Cream and Soap at all good stores for 25¢ each a package, or you can order by mail. Send your receipt to:

HELL'S OASIS

"Hell's Oasis." A Thrilling, Fast Shooting, Hard Riding Western Story. With Neil Hart the Screen's Newest Westerner as the Two Gun Man. Open at the Exhibit Theatre for Two Days (Closing Tonight Don't Miss It. Also Other Attractions.

Mystery, love, adventure and religion at the point of a gun in a wild Hell-hole of the western desert is the theme of "Hell's Oasis," a new production starring Neil Hart which will close an engagement at the Exhibit tonight. The photoplay is an adaptation of the famous stage production, "The Fighting Parson" by Wm. H. Roberts.

In the beginning he was just one of them—and an inhabitant like the rest who knew no good and whose code of life was simply to get the most possible out of life. There came a day when a little feminine evangelist struck the desert and through an incident calling for protection, Neil Hart started a battle that changed his life and through his fighting methods, changed the career of the entire community.

The picture play traces with great fidelity the thrilling story of "The Fighting Parson." There are dozens upon dozens of exciting situations in the little town, that later became known as "HELL'S OASIS."

LEW CODY in "Occasionally Yours"

Which Will You Have? The Girl Who Loves You the Girl Who Thinks She Loves You, or "Occasionally Yours" with Lew Cody at the Eastland Theatre Tonight Last Time. The Most Talked of Screen Play of the Season. Don't Miss It.

Program Tonight
A—Overture—Eastland Orchestra.
B—Feature—Lew Cody in "Occasionally Yours."
C—Screen Snapshots, News from the Studios.
D—Universal Star Comedy.

Lew Cody, the famous love-making star of the screen, finds all sorts of amusing and serious adventures in "Occasionally Yours," a Robertson-Cole super-special which closes at the Eastland theatre tonight.
This is Mr. Cody's third starring vehicle for Robertson-Cole and presents him in a role equally as interesting as the characters he portrayed in "The Beloved Cheater," and "The Butterfly Man." The story of the picture is one of romance, yet full of realism, and entertains while it instructs. It is the type of screen play that will linger long in the memory.
Mr. Cody is surrounded by a cast of the first water. Betty Hutton, a leading woman of the screen who has won recognition for her ability as an actress and for her beauty, plays the leading feminine role. As a vivacious young widow she is at the very peak of her art.
Elmer Fair, the winsome dark-eyed Southern lass, who scored a success as the loyal girl in "The Miracle Man," plays an ingenue lead.
Other members of the cast are, Lilian Hambeau, mother of Marjorie Rambeau, William Quinn, Barney Sherry, Lloyd Hamilton, Dorothy Wallace, Geo. Hodge and Yvonne Gardelle.
In the new picture Mr. Cody has enlisted the services of several four-legged thespians. "Boots," a bull-pup of unusual intelligence, adds a high percentage of clean-cut amusement and certainly deserves a place among the canine stars of the screen. "Julius," a mouse, fond of high priced history and powder puffs, delights in a precocious rooster. A couple of hard-working rabbits complete the menagerie.
"Occasionally Yours" was adapted to the screen by H. Tipton Stock from a story by Elmer Forst.
Hunting Quail
R. S. Prichard has gone to Kentucky where he will hunt quail for several days.

ROSE OF NOME

WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION
"Rose of Nome." A Picture Play of Alaska, Full of Everything You Like in a Picture, is the Feature Attraction at the Strand Tonight. Also Pollard Comedy That's a Screen.

All who are young enough to be thrilled by the great outdoors and old enough to enjoy a story of love, and gold will like "Rose of Nome," the Fox photoplay, starring Gladys Brockwell which opens its engagement tonight at the Strand.
The story, from the pen of Barbara Le Marr Deely, tells of life in the Alaskan gold fields. The Rose of Nome married to a brute, takes matters into her own hands and for months is the guiding star and inspiration of rough miners who adore her. Then comes the faithful one who loves her silently but devotedly. Unknown to her, the brutal husband has been killed, and the striving battle between the forces of good and evil throws a searching light upon human nature.
Don't miss the Pollard comedy.

A Light Woman

Lincoln Tonight, Anita Stewart in "Two Women." A James Oliver Curwood Story. A Big Feature. Also a Chapter of "Hidden Dangers."
Reproduction in swift and terrible form makes complete the triumph of love in "Two Women," the Anita Stewart picture which will be seen at the Lincoln tonight. Anita Stewart, a child of the mountains, is called on to recognize her first great love that the other woman may return to the man of whom she had proved unworthy. Anita is prepared to make the sacrifice which will break her heart, when reproduction steps in and closes the amazing triangle into which the young girl had been drawn.
James Oliver Curwood wrote this great dramatic story and the picture was directed by Ralph Malt.
Also a thrilling chapter of "Hidden Dangers" starring Joe Ryan and Jean Talbot. Its a Vitaphone.

"The Best" Clothing Proposition

While we have so far been favored with very mild weather, we know that it cannot last forever, and sooner or later we will all be freezing with cold. However, there is some consolation in the knowledge that The Tanenhaus Store is fully prepared to take care of the largest business in its history, and we are proud of the really remarkable stock of clothing that we now have on hand. Take our advice and make your Winter clothing selection at once—don't wait for the cold, for the rush will then be on, and you may be disappointed. We will be glad to hold any garment for you as long as you wish.

PRICES NOW GREATLY REDUCED

Here is another reason for buying now—owing to the upset condition in the cotton, wool and silk markets we have recently gone through our entire stock and regardless of cost have greatly reduced every garment in the store. You can now buy guaranteed, dependable clothing at a very reasonable price. We are featuring all the very latest in Coats, Coat-wraps, Suits, Woolen Dresses, Walking Skirts, Sweaters, Waists and Furs for Ladies and Misses; also one of the very finest lines of Suits and Overcoats for Men, Young Men and Boys that we have ever carried. The prices on our COATS for both Men and Women ARE VERY, VERY REASONABLE.

"OUR CHARGE SERVICE"

is so well known that it is really a waste of space to repeat what we have told you so often that it becomes an old story. It is enough to say that WE DO WANT YOUR CHARGE ACCOUNT, and we will make our charge arrangements so easy with you, that you will wonder why you have not taken advantage of our service long before. Let your better judgment bring you to this store just once, and we are sure that we will enjoy you thereafter as a regular patron.

The "quality" of every garment in this store is fully guaranteed to make good—or this store will make good. This is a "guarantee" and not mere advertising talk. When called upon to "make good" you can rest assured that we do, just that. Don't wait for another invitation, but come in now and get acquainted with—

—1 Day Only—The Most Unique and Brilliant Picture of the Year.
Program For Tomorrow:
A—Musical Feature—the Feature.
B—Feature—A Light Woman.
C—Prizma Film—Monte Carlo.
D—Billy Franey in "Getting His Goat."
An unusually strong cast of talented players will appear in the American production of Robert Browning's classic poem, "A Light Woman," which is to have its first run tomorrow at the Eastland. The cast includes Charles Gray, whose work on the screen always wins the mark and wins the admiration of the most conservative critic; Helen Jerome Kelly, who appeared with George Bolan and later with George Hargrave, and who has recently been assigned a star; Claire Dancy, the most finished and convincing "siren" of the silver sheet, and Hilaria Cooley, the matinee idol of the screen, who in "A Light Woman" is given a role to his taste as a youthful Don Quixote who reforms just in the nick of time.
The story which gives these talented players unusual dramatic scope, is an aged old theme, lightened by Robert Browning's artistic touch—the story of a youth who, determined to taste the fullness of life regardless of the hardships of his devoted parents and his adoring fiancée, finds himself the willing victim to the seductive charms of a beautiful siren.
Ragged 35 Rabbits
Charles V. Wertz and Fred and Walter Bullman killed 35 rabbits in vicinity of Stockdale Monday.
This is an exact likeness of the only man in town who isn't going to see "Old Lady 31" at The Temple Tonight, also Sunshine Comedy.
Ever have a regular city slicker come along and prevail upon you to invest all your money in some worthless mining stock? Well that's what happened to Abe and Angie the leading characters in "Old Lady 31" the big New York success which comes to the Temple tonight. They were too old to work and too proud to beg, which meant that the only open road lay over the hill to the poorhouse.
Enough was finally saved from the wrecked fortune to enable Angie to enter the Old Ladies Home and Abe had to be reconciled to spend the remainder of his days in the county almshouse. But the good fairy waved her magic wand and Abe was taken into the Old Ladies Home along with his life companion and tickled as Old Lady 31. Abe stands it for a while as the only male companion of all the old, only spinsters and "widlers" but finally with a disgusted wail "I don't know whether I'm a man or woman" he runs away.
What happens after that is developed in a drama that is as tender as human as a grandmother's memory, and remember that the leading role is played by Emma Dunn.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE WILL OPPOSE RETURN OF CONSTANTINE

ATHENS, Nov. 15.—Premier Venizelos resigned early today, and the new Greek parliament was confirmed. ## Plan To Salvage Stranded Ship

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Nov. 15.—Captain Arthur Forbes of the wrecked steamer Francis J. Widmer, and representatives of the Becker line, owners of the vessel, were planning today to undertake the salvage of the freighter which was driven upon Dun Lake Superior Friday night and had, up to noon yesterday, withstood the pounding of the heavy seas.

According to Captain Forbes, with the 27 members of his crew who were rescued here last night, almost no damage to the vessel was done. The ship was not battered so badly damaged below the water line that she could not be saved.

The members of the crew, recovered from their story hours exposure on the stranded vessel, were preparing to leave for their homes. Nothing had been heard early today of the whereabouts of the steamer Charles N. Bradley, another vessel overtaken by the severe storm last week. All other steamers on Lake Superior at the time have been accounted for.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Representatives of the Russian trade delegation in London, headed by Leonid Krasin, were in conference yesterday with the cabinet, discussing the preliminary for the possible resumption of trade with Soviet Russia.

Some progress was made, but it is stated that there is a sharp division of opinion in the British cabinet on the subject. Premier Lloyd George is reported to favor resumption, but several of the prominent cabinet members are opposing it. Mr. Lloyd George is said to be supported, among others, by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house of commons, and Mr. Robert S. Horne, president of the board of trade, who heretofore had opposed the recognition policy.

WRANGEL UNABLE TO REORGANIZE BROKEN ARMY

PARIS, Nov. 15.—The defeat of General Wrangel, whose south Russian government has been recognized by France, does not mean that France is ready to consider recognition of the Russian Soviet government, it was said at the foreign office today.

The French government is presently regarding "any further military movements in Russia at present it was indicated, not seeing where any basis can be found for reorganization of the Russian government against the Russian government made by General Wrangel from the Crimea.

General Wrangel himself, the foreign office advised, either had arrived at Constantinople on board the Russian cruiser Korniloff or was on the way to that city.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 15.—The French admiral of the Black Sea forces sent a wireless to the Bolsheviks asking the evacuation of Sebastopol by General Wrangel's troops, threatening reprisals if the town were looted or the population molested. GENEVA, Nov. 15.—All danger that the assembly of the league of nations may encroach upon the Monroe doctrine by considering American questions in the absence of the United States, has been averted by the withdrawal of a request by Bolivia for revision of treaties with Chile. Their requests were withdrawn yesterday, it having been Bolivia's purpose to gain access to the sea, and Peru's to secure reconsideration of the vexing Tacna-Arica question.

It is not expected that any other American questions with dangerous possibilities will come before the present session of the assembly.

Six committees, charged with dealing with all questions on the agenda, began work today. Each committee has 11 members, all the nations having delegates at the meeting here being represented.

It is reported that South American delegates agreed the league of nations should do all it can to get the United States to become a member nation.

Argentina is regarded as a strong candidate for representation on the council of the league, the four elective members of which will be chosen by the assembly after receiving the report of the committee on general organization.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Sentiment was decidedly more cheerful at the opening of today's stock market, this condition being manifested not only by higher prices, but by the strength of foreign exchange as well. The money market also gave promise of greater ease, especially for demand loans. Early calls ranged from 1 to 1 1/2 points in Reading. Mexican petroleum, Baldwin locomotive and United States rubber. Other leaders trailed along at substantial fractional advances. The few exceptions included Bethlehem steel and several of the obscure specialties.

Hard Coal Miners And Operators Again Confer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 15.—Representatives of the hard coal miners and operators resumed their conference here today in another effort to reach a settlement of their wage dispute.

When the conference adjourned on November sixth, it virtually was deadlocked on the interpretation of President Wilson's telegram requesting recognition of the anthracite wage commission's award, the operators declaring the telegram permitted only the ratification of alleged inequalities within the present agreement. The miners representatives disputed this contention, claiming they had given existing differentials between the hard coal and the soft coal workers wage scales in a telegram to President Wilson on October 2, as a reason why the award should be accepted. They declared the president had these differentials in mind as well as other inequalities complained of in their telegram of a later date.

Should this virtual deadlock not be broken today, miners representatives said their committee probably would appeal to President Wilson to make a ruling in order that the wage negotiations may proceed.

Among the men's demands are increases equal to the 27 percent granted the bituminous coal miners, a 50 cent per day rate, a universal eight hour day and adjustment of all other inequalities in the present agreement.

Camel CIGARETTES

Dallas, Texas, Sunday.

DEAR OLD BOY PETE!

This corner of the U. S. mainland is so wonderful in its bigness and hustle I guess I go mouth wide open and eyes staring! Why, Pete, Texas don't talk in miles—it doesn't mean anything! They'll tell you that this place, or that, is an all-day trip, or two days and a night, distant, etc. And, old yardstick, you've got the feet, just let it sink in deep that Texas is not only over 800 miles wide but it is our fifth state in population!

Heard a bird in the Adolphus Hotel say that when he comes off the west border he figures he's close home to Baltimore when he's across the Lone Star State! Talk about "jumps"! Try a few, say the one between Texarkana and El Paso!

Pete, everything grows big down here—business as well as folks' hearts! I like the way they never forget! Here I was walking on Main Street yesterday when as fine a type of man as ever wore one of those broad Texas smiles came up to me. "How are you, lieutenant?" says he. "Maybe you'll call back that day at Camp Dick when I brought over that bunch of Camel Cigarettes for the boys," he continued. Right then a Camel conference opened!

Golly, Pete, this party comes Camel compliments faster than the mint makes money! "Lieutenant," says he, "I know when I'm 'bet'! I've smoked cigarettes for five years! (NOW LISTEN, PETER!) I know Camels and I know their marvellous mild, mellow body and refreshing flavor and wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! A million Camels wouldn't tire a smoker's taste!" Now, Pete, I'll say that's some testifying!

Sincerely
Shorty.

P. S.—Between you and me I'll be eating at tail buildings and things around 410 and Broadway—N. E. W. Y. O. R. K.—about the hour this note hits Boston's Back Bay! Write me at the same old stand!

RADEN, November 15.—The village has been the scene of an epidemic of whooping cough, scores of children suffering from the malady and quarantine regulations have been invoked by the Red Cross through Dr. R. W. DeCraw, county health commissioner, in an effort to prevent a further spread of the disease.

The disease has greatly affected the attendance of scholars at the High School, and it may become necessary to close down the school until the epidemic abates.

C. K. Abbott, who has been laid up at his home here for several weeks from a scalded leg, has recovered sufficiently to resume his work as engineer of a steam shovel at a mining plant at Radon.

J. E. Blackburn, local merchant, who has been in a precarious condition for several days, the result of running a nail in his leg, is slowly improving.

Dr. P. G. Wachendorf and family have returned home from a visit to relatives at Marion. They made the trip by motor.

William Wilborn, Mr. Joy farmer, who was put under quarantine for observations several days ago when he was taken ill and showed symptoms of small pox, has been discharged, the disease having been materially.

Several cases of the contagion has been reported at Duke postoffice, near here.

Huntington To Tackle Athens

HUNTINGTON, Nov. 16.—The scrap with Charleston as tough enough, but from all indications the worst is yet to come. Athens high school, from Athens, O., comes next on the Red and Blue schedule and will be the attraction at League park Saturday afternoon.

Athens has a regular football team, one of the strongest in the Buckeye state. Fresh from a great 28 to 0 victory over Aquinas High, one of the strongest teams in Columbus, and a 6 to 0 game with Waldo High school, of Toledo, they are coming to this city confident of getting away with a victory.

According to comparative scores, which are as useless as a steamboat on a farm, the invaders will have it on Wilson's warriors by quite a wide margin. Athens walloped Portsmouth High to the tune of 40 to 0 last Saturday at Athens, while the best that the Red and Blue could do against Portsmouth was a tie, 14 to 14.

So far this year, the Athens eleven has hung up a grand total of 200 points. In a game against Wellston two weeks ago they ran up a score of 125 and held Wellston scoreless.

RUSSIA WORLD PROBLEM

NO matter what may be thought of the entrance of the United States into an association of nations to work to prevent war, this nation, as well as the other great world powers, is confronted with a world problem in the present situation in Russia.

With the making of peace with Poland, the soviet government of Russia has set about to strengthen itself by attacking the forces of General Wrangel in the Crimea, and dispatches say that his army is being driven back by the bolshheviks. The world need expect nothing honorable from the soviet government of Russia.

While all the government of Western Europe have expressed their condemnation of the soviet system in Russia, the French government is the only one that has gone to the extent of recognizing General Wrangel as the de facto head of Russia. This recognition will avail him little against an overwhelming force of soviet troops.

Great Britain is not disposed to give the anti-bolshheviks of Russia any assistance since peace has been made with Poland, and it is said that Italy is even opposed to establishing an embargo against the soviet government in southern Europe. With the defeat of General Wrangel little hope for the immediate salvation of Russia will be entertained.

There is nothing to indicate that an effort to throw off the tyranny of bolshivism will be attempted soon if the work of General Wrangel should fail. Economic conditions are very bad in Russia, and the masses may be driven to the point of revolt, but this would only bring greater repression on the part of the soviet leaders.

Western Europe has no policy in dealing with Russia, except to keep hands off and await the time when the situation may become so bad that action of some kind may be forced. It seems unfortunate that the Russian people should work great injury upon themselves by civil war after having rendered so much service to the world in the initial days of the great war.

WHERE EVERYONE CAN HELP

DURING the great war it was not merely a badge of honor to be a member of the American Red Cross; there was supposed to be something wrong with any person who did not belong. This splendid organization mobilized the manhood and womanhood, the boyhood and girlhood of the nation, correlating the patriotic activities of all who had to stay at home while our young men fought in defense of the country. Everybody then realized the absolute indispensability of the American Red Cross, that it was to be a prime factor in the winning of the war against Germany.

Equal realization today of the continuing need for the full functioning of the American Red Cross would render unnecessary any special appeal in behalf of its membership. Hundreds of thousands of persons would hasten to enroll their names and promise their co-operation and support.

One emergency is over and we hope it will never recur, but if it should we must see to it that the organization which rendered such nobly efficient service before is equipped and ready to render it again. But there is a real emergency today which calls upon the best resources of the American Red Cross. Across the sea are millions of little children who are facing death from disease and starvation. From no other source than America is there promise of assistance. And in our own country there is no other agency with facilities for grappling with this situation. We Americans must enlist under the banner of the Red Cross to combat epidemic and famine in defense of these little ones. We are not asked to leave our comfortable homes and endure hardships and perils abroad. The representatives of the Red Cross will undergo that ordeal as our agents. All we have to do is to pay the trifling subscription fee and thus have a part in this great work.

It is inconceivable that there will not be a prompt response to the appeal for aid which the Red Cross so confidently makes to the American people.

Most members of the male sex flatter themselves that it is easy for a man to find some woman to marry him.

Quite a number of persons give evidence of defective eyesight when the collection plate is passed in church.

Debs. prefers not to be set at liberty under this administration. And that is a desire that appears likely to be complied with.

What some folks appear to want is a foreign policy that will eat the other fellow in the short ribs.

A man may suffer some wrongs without complaining, but he does not want anyone to interfere with his rights.

The screen door season is over for a few months, at any rate.

Reading Character

By Frederick J. Haskin

NEW YORK CITY, November 16.—The number of persons you can find in a great city like this, who will tell you all about your abilities and possibilities, and the number of different methods by which they will do it, is bewildering.

The shape of your head, the bumps upon your skull, the form of your features, the color of your hair and eyes, the lines in the palms of your hand, your handwriting, are all made the bases of systems for the reading of your character. Likewise, you can be put through scientific tests and examinations which will reveal the exact grade of your intelligence, your power of memory, concentration, perception, invention and many other things. Many of these systems of diagnosing the human personality are practiced by quacks and charlatans, mingled with all sorts of superstition, but they are also cultivated by persons of real intelligence and scientific attainment. They played a large part in choosing men for the army. The United States Navy employed a handwriting expert as well as psychologists. And many industrial plants now use some system of testing the intelligence and studying the characters of prospective employees.

Theoretically, then, there is no reason why you should be in any ignorance of your own potentialities—why you should go about wondering what you are good for, or cherishing any illusions about what you can do. With all of these methods available, if should be as easy to have your abilities analyzed as it is to have a case of measles diagnosed. And likewise, there is apparently no reason why you should not be able to choose your friends and associates with scientific precision. Instead of blundering about in the way you do, for all of these methods are taught, and many of them are taught by correspondence, and books have been written about all of them.

My Blunder Still
And yet, whenever we seem to go on blundering about ourselves and others, as of yore. And even those of us who have studied these systems are not so much better off than those who have not. Can it be that there is nothing in them after all?

In the judgment of one character-reading fan who has plodded through the literature of many of these methods and tried mightily to apply their teachings, there is something in each of them, but no key to the riddle of human personality in any one of them, or in all of them put together. There is nothing more terrible than to become a victim of some one of these systems and to try to apply it literally on all occasions. Take the matter of head-form, for instance. You learn that a man with a fine square brow has a dominating intelligence. If he also has well-placed eyes, a good chin and high nose, he is the ideal type, the master of civilization. Then you meet him on the street. He is a traffic cop. And the same day you meet a man who has written a remarkable book, and you find that he has a low retreating forehead, a pug nose and several of the stigmata of degeneracy, and that he ought to be a porch-climber or a pick-pocket.

Does this prove that the system is ungood? Not exactly. The shape of a man's head and features does reveal a good deal about the nature of his abilities, but it does not reveal much about his caliber. The traffic cop may indeed be a man of well-balanced intelligence and good character—the kind who will handle a bad traffic jam with a fine sense of justice and without becoming confused or angry. And the writer with the bulging head may indeed be an erudite. But his brain cells are three or four times as strong and active as those of the traffic cop. He is not such a well-balanced machine, but he is one of much higher horsepower and finer quality.

The Mystery of Power
The proper method, perhaps, is to apply all of the systems for what they are worth, and never to let any of them interfere with the general impression. It is the degree of power which resides in a man that determines more than anything else his effectiveness for human purposes, and there is no system for accurately estimating that degree of power. You can judge it only by intuition and experience. It is as furlible and vital as the amount of electricity which courses through a wire.

And it is just as hard for a man to estimate his own powers, except by performance, as it is for him to estimate those of another. The feeling of power seems to be no guide at all. The world is full of egotistical fools who seem to feel genuinely sure that they were born to high destiny, while many great men can scarcely believe in their own powers even after they have discovered them.

It seems well, then, to take account of all these systems for judging men without ever letting any of them get in the light of a general impression. If you are going to hire a man, study the shape of his head to be sure. If he has a good brow it is in his favor. A man with a high brow is apt to have memory and taste for detail, and one with a low, square brow is more apt to make a good salesman. A well-formed, sensitive mouth is a good thing to look on, and a deep cleft between the eyes shows unmistakably that his owner has done some thinking. And do not overlook the man's handwriting, either. If it is only a signature to a typewritten letter, there seems to be no doubt that an ascending signature shows earnestness and hope—a personality which is growing and winning in the struggle of life—and a descending signature shows a man discouraged or frightened, or in poor health. Simple graceful capitals show good taste, and ornate capitals show vulgarity, while uncouth large ones are a pretty good indication of egotism. These things are significant and worth taking into account, but they do not prove much.

Everything Significant
In fact, everything about a man is significant. There is no effect without a cause. Every more that a man makes, every line in his face, every infection of his voice, the way he combs his hair and the way he dresses, the way he sits in a chair, and the way he walks are all tell-tale if only we could understand them. And these systems for reading character which are springing up in such number are all based on this fact. They are steps toward the founding of a science of human personality, and if it ever becomes a true and unified science, it will perhaps be the most important of them all.

For surely ignorance of human character and personality is the cause of enormous human waste. No doubt the blue will come when education, for example, will be as much diagnosis as training. How many boys are forced into business when all of their aptitudes are for art or science? How many persons labor to become writers or artists, spending years of effort, giving up hard-earned cash to correspondence schools, when they have not a spark of talent? How many born thieves and murderers are cheerfully turned loose upon the community every year by the schools? How many good mechanics and engineers are spoiled by the idea that they were cut out for office jobs?

All of this waste is preventable. Much of it could be prevented by such methods as have been perfected already. Give your attention then to every system for studying the enigmas of human personality which is honest and sincere. It cannot solve the riddle, but it may help.

WHO'S WHO

In The Days News

MR. JULIUS KAHN.

Representative Julius Kahn, of California, re-elected to the house from his state at the recent election, is among those mentioned as a prospective cabinet officer. As chairman of the house military affairs committee he has become thoroughly conversant with military affairs generally, and is, therefore, mentioned as the possible choice of President-elect Harding for the post of secretary of war. "I said Harding is opposed to having a military man in the post," he said.

Kahn was born in Koppelstein, grand duchy of Baden, and moved to California with his parents when he was five years old. Despite his German birth he was out-spoken in his patriotism and arguments for military preparedness "to win the future" when the war broke out.

He advocated a plan for universal training of boys over sixteen and wanted the draft law to cover all men from eighteen to forty. He proposed that the espionage measure, then up should provide that newspaper men direct censorship of war news.

That War Duration Again

On the docks at Bordeaux, France, an old-time sergeant of a weary regiment was having trouble with a dead of men of his own race who seemed inclined to loaf on their work in loading box cars with provisions for the army of occupation. Addressing one negro, who was especially lazy, he yelled, "Come on you, get to work, dar!" "Shucks, sergeant," replied the lazy one, "Ah! listed foh de wuh, an' list de wuh." "Yo's all a darn fool," the sergeant yelled, "Yo listed foh de wuh! Yo-s-s-s! Ah! also foh de duration de wuh. Now, niggah, de wuh's list de wuh. De duration, list's just de wuh."

One Time It Did Not Work

"Married couples should stick to one another's opinions to get along," said the sober-faced man. "I dunno," replied the other.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(Itinerary)

Swains with an army of small boys, when the weather turns from fall to winter, is a daily sight of future distress. Penny candies, dried berries, hot dogs, balloons with the American flag, grumpy luncheon-chefs and a hundred other trifles are flung by the hawkers.

They make many sales because they are foreign born and new arrivals will gladly make purchases to be able to talk to them in their native tongue and get directions about the city. The emigrants' heads' together like sheep before the lurching stork.

The towering outline of Manhattan impresses them from a distance but when they approach the jagged skyline of skyscrapers, deep street canyons and the general architectural lunacy they shrink with awe. There is something pitiable about their dumb Leishmans.

Some remain in Battery Park all day, afraid to fire forth into the new world. Others mount the stairs to the elevated trains with hysterical giggles. There is a warm kindness about the inspectors who are in charge and the strangers shake hands flusterly and bow their heads before departing.

Invariably the emigrant carries double his weight in luggage. He brings his own bedding, a box of his own soap and other household utensils and then there is generally a framed picture of the family group he left behind. Sentiment runs high among them.

A motley daily collection. Young poles with aged parents, sturdy blonds, blonds, Turks with their hair in their ears, red shirted sons of Italy, hunking Lascars, Swedes, and even French and Belgian children, orphaned by war, and looking Swiss—and a host of other folk, all pouring into the great American melting pot.

Since the war Long Island has gathered many residents who, to the critical residents there, are known as rough-neck millionaires. The verandas of these houses of crude social errors made by the new rich. There is one rugged old fellow who purchased a near-shore near Bayshore. There is a man who came with a private garage and a job and all. He has a factory in one of the towns nearby. His wife is large, rosy checked and until three years ago had never been in an automobile. Consequently, she is just a little awed by the swift change. Her husband's first name is Mike.

From her porch the other afternoon she yelled to the jittered chauffeur: "Oh, Mr. Kelly, drive around by the shop and pick up Mike."

Two exclusive men tailors who have never advertised in the newspapers or even permitted a sign on their windows or on their doors have suddenly had a change of heart. Both have quarter-page ads in the newspapers and each has placed signs on the buildings in which they are established.

The present poor business. And on top of this 45,000 workers in the clothing trade are idle. People are making their frims winter clothes do this season.

The traffic cop on Seventy-second street rushed forward shouting: "Where do you think you are? You are in the middle of a fine day. You that you think—Ah! it's a fine day, sir, and how is everything down town?"

He had suddenly recognized a deputy police commissioner and retired with smiles, all pouring into the great American melting pot.

It didn't work that way, in our case. I told my wife I wasn't worthy of her and she declared I was. For the sake of harmony, I yielded my opinion and said, I was worthy of her, and she, not to be outdone, yielded her opinion and insisted I wasn't.

A Costly Disease
"It's just depression that kills your husband, isn't it, Mrs. Highmore?" "I suppose so, but a specialist is treating him for melancholia, and, you know, that's quite expensive."

A Welcome Invention
An old lady announced that she had invented an automatic collection basket which would be passed around by the deacons of his church.

"It is so arranged, my brethren," said he, "that if you drop in a quater or half dollar it falls noiselessly on a red plush cushion; if you drop a nickel it rings a bell that can indubitably be heard by de laith congregation; and if you drop in a button, my brethren, it falls off a pistol."

Should Be Tried Often
A Virginia editor threatened to publish the name of a certain young man who was snoring and kissing a girl in the park unless his subscription to the paper was paid up in a week. Fifty-nine young men called and paid up the next day, while two even paid a year in advance.

He Knew One
"What is a widow?" asked the teacher of a Sunday school class, the subject of the day's lesson being the widow of Haman.

There was silence until she added to a little boy on her left and said: "You know what a widow is, don't you?" for she knew that the boy's mother was one.

"Yes," he answered, "it's a lady what takes in washing!"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Magistrate—"Can't this case be settled out of court?"

Black Cap's Significance
The custom of putting on a black cap—really a square of black cloth—which judges in England do when sentencing a prisoner to death, originated from the custom of covering the head as a sign of mourning in ancient days. The judge, in putting on the black cap, means the fact that he is about to order a life to be forfeited.

WILL REPEAT INSPIRING RED CROSS PAGEANT THIS EVENING

Two Big Audiences Were Delighted With Opening Performance Last Evening

2 MORE PERSONS DROP DEAD; MAKING FIVE IN AS MANY DAYS

There are those who know the meaning of the "Red Cross" but many who do not understand its significance. The Red Cross of Peace pageant at the High School last evening, showed in pantomime the activities of this one of the greatest of international organizations: its readiness at all times to give assistance to those in need, whether from pestilence, disaster, famine, fire, flood, or other great national calamities, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing them.

The need of the Red Cross in times of peace, as well as in times of war was shown throughout the play by the "Red Cross of Peace," this character being depicted by the author of the pageant, Mrs. Ruth Mosley Worrell, of Cleveland.

Two audiences, that crowded to the doors the High School Auditorium, witnessed one of the most spectacular performances ever attempted by local amateurs. A symphony of color, carried out in the costumes, the production was accompanied by rousing orchestral music and a large chorus.

The first performance at 7 o'clock, was entirely for children, and the house was filled with youngsters. The second performance at 8:30 for the "grown-ups," who showed as much enthusiasm as the preceding audience. The pageant will be repeated tonight, one performance only, at 8 o'clock.

The call to colors by two buglers, opened the pageant, then with Watson Goddard singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and the large chorus singing the refrain, Miss Helen Hardin, impersonating the "Spirit of Humanity," appeared with Miss Marie Ware as Florence Nightingale, Miss Charlotte Dufay as Clara Barton, Miss Virginia Alger and Mildred Bellows, as two nurses of the Civil War lines, accompanying two wounded soldiers of the Civil War, thus showing the Red Cross in war at the founding of the organization. Miss Leona Allard enacted the "Red Cross in War" entered, preceding the characters representing the Junior Red Cross, Knitting Department, Educational Department, Can Factory, etc.

Then Service, Sewing Department, Nursing Service, Overseas Personnel, Motor Corps, Home Service Department, Surgical Dressing, and lastly, the Red Cross Dog.

In Act 2, Columbia, Mrs. Walter Gableman, presented the commission to the Red Cross of Peace to carry on her work. In turn, the Red Cross of Peace outlined the peace program to the "Returned Soldier," Captain W. J. Keyes.

In the second part, the peace program was carried out, showing the health nurse, immigrant mother and child, blind child, crippled child, disabled soldier and group of poverty-stricken women. At this time Roger Selby as the Red Cross Representative presented the women of the nursing service with certificates for their first aid work.

Mrs. Lenora McCoy and Miss Virginia Ware were the interviewers for the Home Service, giving aid to the returned soldier, wife and child, dependent father and mother, blind soldier, compensable client and federal board student.

FIRST HUNTING ACCIDENT

Willard Harr, 13 year old son of W. T. Harr of Ohio and Rhodes avenues, New Boston, is one of the first hunting victims of the season. Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock, while hunting near Suman, on the Cincinnati division of the N. & W., Harr shot off the end of the third toe on his left foot. The accident will cause young Harr to remember his first rabbit hunting expedition of 1920.

He was hunting with his father. He had just killed a rabbit and rebounded his rifle, a 44 calibre. He took the rabbit to his father and when he had the barrel on his left shoe. In some unknown manner the gun was discharged and the bullet tore through the shoe and cut off part of the toe.

After being brought home last night he was attended by Dr. T. H. McCann of New Boston.

6 CENT FARE ORDINANCE AGAIN UP TO NEW BOSTON COUNCIL

At Monday night's meeting of New Boston Council, the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light Company presented an ordinance asking for an increase in the rate of fare, the new rate for New Boston being 6 cents, with privilege of transfer from West avenue to Sciotoville and from Sciotoville to West avenue, New Boston. After hearing the reading of the ordinance Council decided to pass the matter until Thursday night, at which time Council will meet as a whole to consider the various phases of the ordinance, on next Tuesday night another meeting will be held, at which time the railway officials will be given an opportunity to discuss the needs of the company and why a six cent fare should be granted them.

Major J. S. Davis advised the Street Railway officials to have Portsmouth Council at its meeting Wednesday night. Not to pass on the ordinance, adding that it would be best for the two towns to try together on the matter before any action is taken.

Another clause which Major Davis says is not favorable to New Boston is the Sciotoville transfer. He urges that the transfer be cut off from the West cooperative line of the village in the future. It is possible that one Council will pass it and the other refuse to pass it and that it would be better for both to get together and decide on a course of action.

As to New Boston's part of the ordinance, Major Davis says that the company should make some guarantee that improvements would be made before the increase is granted.

When Mr. Messer went to see his wife he found her dead and he immediately called Dr. Hopkins, who gave a verdict of death from heart trouble. Mrs. Messer had been in good health up to the time of her death, and had been rarely ill.
